London Bureau

Dear Del,

I just want to thank you for your kind invitation to stay with you the evenings of the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd of May. We are looking forward to it, but realize that Eric's invitation for lunch on the 3rd cuts down a bit on our sightseeing time in London. We've extended our trip in order to allow at least one full day in London.

We have been pouring over the material you sent us and are staggered by the number of options that are available to us for sightseeing. That brings me to the point of asking another favor of you. We will be arriving back in London late afternoon on the 11th of May with our departure for home scheduled for the 13th of May. We intend to sightsee and do a little shopping on 12th. Would you please identify a nice relatively inexpensive hotel for my wife and me for the evenings of the 11th and 12th and make reservations for us? We would appreciate it.

The only part of our trip that seems to be a bit uncertain is where to stay the evening of the 10th of May. We'll be heading south from St. Andrews, through Edinburgh and had thought about staying in Edinburgh the evening of the 10th.  tells us it's a fairly long trip by car from Edinburgh to London and he suggested we might want to stay south of Edinburgh on the evening of the 10th. If you have any suggestions along those lines, we would appreciate it. We believe we could do what we have to do on Sunday the 10th and be on our way toward London by mid-afternoon, but we clearly don't want to travel too late into the evening.

Again thank you for your kind invitation and thank you in advance for making the reservations for the 11th and 12th.

Sincerely,

Director

P.S.: If you could give us a hint as to where to drop off an Avis car near the hotel you select, we would appreciate that too.
